FM Student Scholarships is the best-known Foundation program, and remains a key component of the work of the Foundation in making FM a Career of Choice. In addition to scholarships, the Foundation's FM student programs also include the annual International Student of the Year award and e-Poster competition held at World Workplace.

SCHOLARSHIPS: Every year, the Foundation partners with more than 30 chapters, councils, companies and organizations to award approximately 40 scholarships to deserving students

A number of enhancements are planned for 2017 and we'll cover them all in this webinar.

- Scholarships award presentations will be a part of the Foundation Celebration
- New Student/Sponsor/IFMA Fellows mixer being considered
- New deadlines and selection to accommodate student and sponsor profiles in the WW on-site directory

In addition, we have learned that there are a lot of misconceptions about how the Foundation's scholarship program works, and we'll answer all your questions and concerns! For example:

- Does the Foundation select which student receives a sponsor's scholarship? (Answer: no!)
- Does the Foundation set all of the criteria for scholarship awards? (Answer: no!)
- Must sponsors commit to an endowment or more than 1 scholarship this year? (Answer: no!)
- Do sponsors have the opportunity to name their scholarship? (Answer: yes!)
- Learn details on these questions and more

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT OF THE YEAR: This award is designed to recognize the cream of the crop – the top FM student on the planet. Learn what the criteria of this award are, and how you can nominate a student that you know who may be worthy of this exclusive recognition.

E-POSTER COMPETITION: Did you know that for many years the Foundation has sponsored a student e-poster completion? This year, it'll be easier than ever to be witness to what tomorrow's FM superstars are studying while earning a degree. Learn more about how you can participate at WW2017 in Houston.
