Letter from the President - February 2016

Ever since I joined the Atlanta Chapter of IFMA, I have been a Sustaining Patron of the Chapter for all but a mere 6 months. Being a Sustaining Patron of our Chapter is beneficial in so many ways: The ultimate and most important purpose of Sustaining Patrons is supporting our Chapter. Our programs, events & financial scholarships would not be …

MEET KEN FEHNER

Ken Fehner is the owner of The Social Gloo, a social media and email marketing company. He has over 25 years of experience with traditional marketing channels such as, newspaper, radio and TV/cable advertising. Unlike many marketing companies who add social media to their list of services, The Social Gloo is a social media/email marketing company first. The Social Gloo’s main focus is social media management for businesses and associations. Ken works with local businesses, start-ups, national and international companies, and associations supporting their social media needs. The scope of work includes email marketing, social media including Facebook management and design, Twitter management and design, LinkedIn management, YouTube video creation & more.

Member Spotlight - Tammy Weeks

What motivated you to enter your career? I can't say I was ever really motivated to be in sales or business development…. initially. What began my career while working with a large janitorial company in a role as executive assistant evolved over the years into client relations which later transformed into business development. It was that company's philosophy to develop …
