

Elizabeth Dukes

Co-Founder

Author and Workplace Technology Advocate, Elizabeth Dukes is the Co-Founder and CMO of iOFFICE, the leading Integrated Workplace Management Software (IWMS) software serving the Digital Workplace. Elizabeth champions iOFFICE's mission to use technology to empower the workforce and the Smart Workspaces that serve them.

With more than two decades in the field, Elizabeth and Don Traweck co-founded iOFFICE after working at Pitney Bowes Management Services, a service company that provided outsourced workplace management solutions to the Fortune 1000. iOFFICE serves more than 2.4M users worldwide. Co-author of Wide Open Workspace, and a sought-after speaker at IFMA Worldwide, CoreNet, Future Office, and Realcomm/CoreTech. She received her Bachelor's Degree in Marketing from the University of Texas, Austin.

Elizabeth is a wife and mother of two teenage daughters. She is actively involved with the community through Agape Development and the Garden Club of Houston and supporting her alma mater through The University of Texas Chancellor's Council and UT Austin's President's Associates. She enjoys staying fit, spinning and practicing yoga, but is most happy being outdoors hiking through beautiful places.
